

Clean Your Old Content To Compete in Today's Online Market.

Having old content does nothing to improve your rankability on Google. Our Content SEO Cleanup Service is a meticulous process designed to enhance the visibility and effectiveness of your online content. Learn how ReadTomato™ can take your old, under performing content and clean it to rank higher, be relevant for today's customers and optimized for the latest search engine updates.

Initial Assessment

After backing up your website to ensure and safeguard the integrity of your core data, we determine the number and scope of posts and pages that require a thorough cleanup. We install the latest Plugins for optimizing your content, audit your site-wide content for value, fix broken or old links and review/fact check your content to ensure it's relevancy.

Content Analysis

We also meticulously check for grammatical errors, and manually review each page for outdated information, claims, statistics or date. We pinpoint posts with thin content (below 300 words) and add new content to further enhance your SEO/ranking signals to Google.

Content Optimization

Content optimization is at the heart of our strategy. Each post is updated to align with the latest Plugin standards for SEO analysis, readability, and inclusive language. We diligently fix or remove all broken links and correct grammatical errors to ensure clarity and professionalism. We SEO optimize sourced or new images for your posts and stories while custom tailoring and integrating calls to action (CTAs) aligned with your services. We also add internal links to enhance your page indexing.

Quality Assurance

Quality assurance is a non-negotiable step in our process. For every piece of your content that we clean, a member of our Quality Assurance team performs a comprehensive review, manually inspecting all changes to ensure precision and cohesiveness. And to guarantee that you're satisfied with the revisions we've made, each cleaned piece of content will get your Stamp of Approval before its posted live.

Clean up your website's old content to quickly elevate the performance of your real estate website.

Introducing ReadTomato's tailored Website Content Clean-Up service, designed specifically for American realtors and brokerages. Our four-phase process begins by securing your website and enhancing SEO using YoastSEO and Broken Link Checker. We then meticulously analyze content to eliminate broken links, grammar errors, and outdated information. In Phase 3, we optimize each post to meet YoastSEO standards for impeccable SEO and readability. Our quality assurance in Phase 4, involving manual reviews and SEO audits, ensures your website is top-notch. Boost your online presence and engage clients effectively with our expert content cleanup. Don't miss out: let's enhance your website today!

Why you should be cleaning up your content

1. IF you downsize your page count, from the pages that google already has indexed (cataloged) anytime someone clicks link to one of those pages, google will send back a 404 error, this can mean a lost lead/new client contact. That's why it's vital to clean all your old content so that not only will it not send an error, but it will actually begin to rank like it's brand new.
2. New SEO - old content gets filled with new/more relevant keywords AND is up to date with any google algorithm updates.
3. New ranking signals - when people are searching for similar content, your pages will rank higher, competing with new copy that competitors are putting out.
4. Cheaper than writing brand new copy.
5. Faster way to get tons of new ranking signals almost immediately.

Content Cleaning FAQ

How many words are on a 'typical' page? - 600-700 words - Forbes indicates that an average of 600-700 words per page is optimal for SEO. Forbes also states that websites with less than 300 words per page are considered "thin" by Google's standards and, most likely, won't rank as highly in search. Figuring out the best content strategy for SEO can be confusing at best.